This isn't for everyone. But if you value calm, elegance, and having your own space, this might just be your place. In Doña Pepa, Ciudad Quesada, there's a villa where no one sees you unless you want them to. Lush greenery wraps around the property, giving you full privacy and that comforting feeling of being in your own little world. Just 40 minutes from Alicante Airport and a short walk from the La Laguna spa hotel, you're close to everything yet far from the noise. The villa is fully detached, and you feel it the moment the electric gates open. A private path leads you to your double garage, and right...(Ask for More Details!)
