This is a home defined by space, character and opportunity. Set on a generous plot in the peaceful surroundings of Altea la Vella, this villa offers a rare combination of volume, privacy and potential. A long private driveway, garage and extensive parking make it an ideal property for those who appreciate space – including car enthusiasts. Inside, the home reveals its true scale. High ceilings, expansive living areas and large windows create a strong architectural foundation, ready to be reimagined into a bright and contemporary residence. The main level features an open living space with fireplace, a spacious separate kitchen, a home...(Ask for More Details!)
